

Understanding Your Personal

KUA NUMBER

in feng shui

A 4-page Report Covering Your Auspicious Directions, Numbers,
Colors and Tips to Make the Most of Your Personal Feng Shui

by Kathryn Weber

Your Kua Number

Element: Water

Color: Black, Blue

Group: East

Trigram: Kan

How to Tap Your Auspicious Directions

- Try to sleep, eat, work, or be in this sector of your home
- Do as many activities as possible in this sector
- Face this direction when working, eating, or sitting in your living room
- Sleep with the top of your head pointed in this direction
- Enter your home or office from a door that faces these direction

Your Wealth & Success Direction: Southeast

Enhance this direction with the colors of light green, blues, blacks, or purples. Add symbols such as green or wooden dragons, snakes, fish, or toads. Small plants are excellent in this direction as are flowers -- particularly those that bloom in water, such as lilies or lotus.

Water is also excellent in this location for you, so consider having a fountain or aquarium here or images of waterfalls. If your front door is located here, you will have many children or grandchildren. Do everything you can to use this direction to promote your wealth and success! Water images are perfect for placing on the Southeast wall of your home or office.

Your Health Direction: East

This is the direction associated with health, in general. To have it for your personal feng shui health direction compounds its effectiveness. To recover from illness or regain strength, face this direction. The effects of eating while facing this direction is extra beneficial!

Your Love Direction: South

What a lucky direction for love! This is the direction of fire -- and by heating up this sector, you will be warming up your love life, too! Add extra emphasis to this sector and do what you can to eat, sleep, or work facing this direction. This direction will most likely help you meet the love of your life through other people... so get out and mingle!

Your Growth Direction: North

In personal feng shui, the north is your growth and wisdom direction. Work in this location to improve your standing, study in this direction, and locate beneficial activities here, such as dining to improve all areas of life. Are you trying to start over from any kind of setback? If so, this is direction to face or be in.

Your Unlucky Directions: West, Northeast, Northwest, Southwest

Try to avoid the west sector and/or direction. To do so can cause arguments and legal problems or some kind of accident. You will receive blame for problems if you occupy this sector too much or if your front door faces this direction.

The northeast and northwest can cause accidents, misfortune, and difficulties, such as lawsuits, burglary or fire. If your front door faces this direction, your family may leave you. If you have a business with a front door facing this direction, employees may leave. This is a good location for a kitchen or toilet.

Strenuously avoid the southwest because it is the VERY worst direction for you. A front door facing this direction can lead to a loss of children or other close family members. Infertility can also arise, causing the family name to die out. Wealth will also be lost. This is a good location for a kitchen or a toilet.

Kua Number FAQ'S

How do I incorporate my kua number without worrying that something terrible will happen if my bedroom is in my worst direction or the house doesn't face my auspicious directions?

This is something that many people worry about, but please don't stress too much. Although you have both auspicious and inauspicious directions and their descriptions can be worrisome, it doesn't mean you're doomed, so put your mind at ease!

Everyone needs to have all directions in their homes, so each direction has its role in your life and your home. You just want to bear in mind which directions are more favorable for you.

On the first page, there are suggestions about how to use your kua number to “Tap Your Auspicious Directions.” Try to follow these recommendations as best you can to get the most beneficial energy for your life, but don’t over stress about the inauspicious directions.

Whose kua number is more important – mine or my partner/spouse?

This is a question that gets asked a lot. The answer is decidedly old fashioned. Basically, you should always try to favor the breadwinner’s directions. However, that doesn’t mean you don’t matter – far from it. If the breadwinner is a woman, then her directions will take precedence. If it’s a man, then use his.

I’m confused about what I should follow – my personal feng shui or my personal zodiac sign. Can you help me?

This is a typical question that comes in my email inbox and I thought it would be helpful to share my answer with everyone. In my own personal feng shui, I’m a 4 kua (east person) and I am a Water Tiger.

Now, as a water tiger with a 4 kua, I’m very compatible with both my zodiac sign, element and kua number.

But if you’re a kua 5 metal rat, then for example, you have very different qualities associated with your kua number and your zodiac sign and that could be at odds with each other.

This can create quite a bit of confusion for a lot of people, so you’re not alone. What I find is that most people identify with an element or identity more than another. So, if you identify with the earthiness of being a 5 kua than the watery element of the rat or the metal element with your birth year, then work with your kua 5 qualities.

Here’s what’s important to know, though, and that is no matter what you pick, you’re right! So just pick the one that feels the most right to you.

I want to turn my bed to my most auspicious direction, but that puts the door to my bedroom behind me. Is that OK?

It’s tempting to try to always face our favorable directions, but it’s not good feng shui to do that and not use the command position – which is where you can be in bed and see the door from your bed. This is called following good “form” feng shui. Always have your bed or desk arranged so that you are in the command position ahead of trying to tap your personal feng shui directions. This is always the better choice.

What else can you tell me about my personal kua number?

Below are some more details about your kua number, and an image that also might be helpful to understanding your personal feng shui qualities and personality.

I hope it helps you to understand your personal feng shui energies better and to find an affinity for those energies that makes sense – and good feng shui – for you.

1 Kua – The Rolling Wave.

1 kua is related to water, and a wave is an image that you can associate with your kua number and the element of water.

1 kuas are transformational and may make big changes in their lives because of the nature of their water energies.

Because you are the water element, look to the element that produces you, and that is metal. Colors such as gray, white, and metallic colors are excellent activators and also good for fashion choices.

Other colors that are helpful to wear include black, blue, white, aqua, purple and lavender.

The numbers 1 and 6 also bring you good fortune. In fact, the number 1 and 6 are both very lucky for you! You could even say that the number 1 is your luckiest number after the number for the day of your birth.

Wearing gold and silver jewelry items with diamonds or blue stones such as aquamarines or pearls are good for your personal energy. In particular, wearing real gold, platinum, and silver is especially auspicious.

Tap the north direction, your personal growth direction associated with your kua number for amazing growth and prosperity. Your luck is enhanced by metal, such as metal and glass furniture, bells, and wind chimes.